CVPOA meeting report

By Elizabeth Cowley

The Carmel Valley Property Owners Association (CVPOA) Board of Directors held its regular meeting on Wednesday, June 14 at the Mid Carmel Valley Fire Station.

The CVPOA Carmel Valley Master Plan Committee met on May 30 to clarify the main reasons it believes the Master Plan should be revised. The CVPOA intends to submit its recommendations to the Board of Supervisors prior to its August budget meetings so that sufficient funding is available for a comprehensive Carmel Valley Master Plan revision. The main issues are; the incorrect premises of the Master Plan which in turn lead to incorrect conclusions, references to out of date reports, Master Plan enforcement, and the section pertaining to the traffic trigger. The traffic trigger section has a portion missing so, as currently written, it is unenforceable.

The Roads and Trails Committee reported that the Board of Supervisors approved the traffic light at the Carmel Middle School estimated to cost $220,000. It was suggested that this traffic light be temporary, until the Rio Road extension was constructed, however the Board of Supervisors opted to approve it as permanent. CVPOA president, Eileen Crane-Franks, said that the two issues leading to the approval of the traffic signal were child safety and traffic volume and that traffic volume could be used as a justification to install traffic lights at several Carmel Valley Road locations. CVPOA Board member, Patricia Bernardi, said that the Board of Supervisors is employing the installation of traffic signals as the answer to all traffic problems and ignoring the recommendations of the Board of Supervisors appointed Carmel Valley Road Improvement Committee.

The Parks Department is considering opening several trails in Garland Park to bicycles. The CVPOA Board approved a motion to send a letter to the Parks Department reiterating their historic position that horse and pedestrian trails are incompatible with bicycles, with the exception of the Cooper Ranch addition which was designed specifically for multi-use trails.

The Membership Committee reported that since last month's meeting the CVPOA has 5 new members, 35 renewals and the addition of 2 associate members. Associate members are home owners associations.

The Land Use Committee reported that the Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) for Rancho San Carlos is complete. The Land Use Committee will review the DEIR and submit comments and recommendations by July 7, 1995, the end of the public comment period.

The Carmel Valley Ranch has approval for the construction of 89 additional condominium units although it has already swapped 25 condominium units for an additional 44 hotel units. The Land Use Committee reported that the Carmel Valley Ranch intends to apply to convert the remaining 64 condominium units to 64 single family homes.

CVPOA Board Member, Robert Greenwood, reported that the State Water Resource Control Board decisions on the allegation that Cal-Am is illegally pumping water from the Carmel River and the permit for the proposed New Los Padres Dam has been postponed to sometime in July.

The Carmel Valley Property Owners Association Board of Directors holds its monthly meeting every second Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Mid Valley Fire Department Community Room. The meeting is open to the public.

Hoofer's Ball nears

"Hooper's Community Dance Hall" will once again open for a fundraiser dance on July 8, 1995 from 8 PM to Midnight at the Carmel Valley Community Center main hall on Ford Road in Carmel Valley Village. Music will be provided by "Sight N Sound". Soft drinks, beer and wine will be available for purchase.

New store will displace The Sun

Developer Mark Enayati, the owner of Teeleet Antiques on Pilot Road, the adjacent 2 story commercial building at 9 Del Fino (commonly known as the Plaza Linda Building) and other properties, has announced plans to open a retail antique copper store in the space currently occupied by the Carmel Valley Sun.

Enayati will offer antique copper pots, kettles, and other items in the remodeled facility, which he says will include street facing double doors.

"This is a good retail location," says Enayati, "and will enhance the nature of the village."

The Enayatis have leased space to two successive Sun owners.

Responding to the change, the Sun's publisher, Norman Spaulding, commented, "I believe they have demonstrated interest in the Carmel Valley's Sun. I think Mark views our dislocation as an improvement in use for his property in the Village."

When asked where the Sun will move, Spaulding said, "The Sun will continue to serve the Valley, I hope from a location that is convenient to the wonderful communities we serve."

Enayati says he hopes to have his new business open before the end of the summer tourist season.

Master oboe seminars at Hidden Valley

John Mack, principal oboist of the Cleveland Orchestra, will open his 12th annual master class at Hidden Valley Music Seminars, with a recital on Monday, June 19th at 8:00 p.m. in the Hidden Valley Theater. The recital will feature special guest artist, soprano Christina Price, who has performed and recorded with John Mack as a member of the Plymouth Trio. Marc Shapiro, pianist for the San Francisco Symphony Chorus, will be the accompanist. Among the works in the program are Baroque arias by Telemann and Handel, trios by Lewis Jones and Richard Cumming, and solo oboe repertoire including the Poulenc Sonata.

John Mack is one of the world's leading oboists and teachers. Now in his 30th year as principal of the Cleveland Orchestra, Mr. Mack also has been principal of the New Orleans and National Symphonies and a member of the renowned Casals and Marlboro Festivals. He has championed the oboe's literature through his many solo appearances with the Cleveland Orchestra and recordings. Mr. Mack is head of the oboe department of the Cleveland Institute. His former students hold positions in major orchestras and music schools throughout the country.

A PLACE IN THE SUN

COMMUNITY DANCE STORY

By Virginia Parke

Throughout rural America people would gather on Saturday nights for an evening of socializing and dancing at the "Grange Hall"

In the mid 1800's the Grange movement began under the title of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry. Local units were called granges and members grangers. The root word of grange stands for grain. The local groups functioned as a focal point for the community's social life.

Later, in the 1920's and 30's dance marathons came into being as communities of people became urbanized. Ball room dancing became the rage, ushering in the "Big Band" era. "Hoofers" (professional dancers) became popular. Enter Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

As events moved our history along, we evolved to less structured, more individualistic dance interpretation and "Disco" was born. Smaller dance clubs became the gathering place. Now in Carmel Valley, history is coming full circle.

Saturday night, July 8 from 8:00 P. M. to midnight the "Hoofers' Community Center Dance Hall" will provide a place for those who enjoy dancing to the music of the 50's through the 80's, as our ancestors did at the Grange Halls, for an evening of socializing and dancing.

According to founder Barry Harrow, the event is designed to be an informal, fun evening of dancing where people can drop by anytime. Barry, involved in the "Night at the Old Buckeye" fund-raiser for the library "realized that the Community Center on Ford Road could be a very nice place to have dances for the community."

"My concept is to have the "Hoofers' Community Dance Hall" open, on a regular basis, to provide a place for residents of the Valley to meet their friends, dance, and generally have a fun, sociable time. It can also be a continuing way to raise funds for the Center."

"Hoofers' does not cater to a particular age or social group. It is for everybody, of every age and musical persuasion. Our community is very diverse. Hoofers' can be the melting pot to bond our community together," as was the Grange Hall.

SHERIFF'S Log

- Long's, at the Crossroads, retained a Cachagua man for shoplifting.
- A Pebble Beach resident complained about a neighbor throwing a baseball against the house. No damage.
- A cellular phone and brown leather folder were taken from a car in Carmel Valley.
- 6/8
- A Cachagua resident reported that her brother was hallucinating and acting weird. The brother was taken to Garden Pavilion for observation.

Barry would like to see Hoofers' become a regular event for the purpose of raising funds to start a "Hoofers' Teens Night". His goal is to provide a safe, fun place for the young people in our community to go on Saturday night. "A lot of interesting ideas could be implemented to provide the teens of the Valley with fun and sociable activities."

On July 8, Hoofers will host DJs from Sight N Sound. They are donating their time along with Barry and others. There will be a musical mix for all dance styles. A $5 donation is suggested and, since beer and wine will be served, you must be 21 to attend.

Valley Chamber Report

By Elizabeth Cowley

The Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce (CVCC) Board of Directors held its monthly meeting on Thursday, June 15 at the Mid Carmel Valley Fire Station.

The CVCC confirmed the committees for the Great Chili Cookoff which will be held on September 18th. Proceeds from the Chili Cookoff will benefit both the CVCC and the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center.

On June 14, the CVCC held a mixer at the Mid Valley Shopping Center from 5:30-7:30 p.m. The mixer was well attended drawing between 75 and 100 people. The CVCC and the Carmel Business Association will hold a joint mixer at the Barnyard on July 13 from 5:30-7:30 p.m.

In lieu of holding its own Flea Market, the CVCC has opted to purchase booth space at the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center Flea Market to be held on July 29 at the Carmel Middle School.

CVCC president, Burney Threadgill, announced that the CVCC booth at the Sunset Travel Fair was a great success. The travel fair was held at the San Jose Conference from June 9 through June 11. The booth was staffed by CVCC members and they distributed information about Carmel Valley and CVCC member businesses.

The Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors meets every third Thursday at 5:30 PM. at the Mid Carmel Valley Fire Department Community Room; the meeting is open to the public.

FUN IN THE SUN Dave Lyon

A Mid-Summer Night's Dance....Mark those calendars gang. For Saturday night, the 8th of July, as your Carmel Valley Community Center presents the return of Hooper's Dance Hall at the community center building on Ford Rd.

This wonderful evening of dance and entertainment will be hosted by Carmel Valley's own Steve Henry and Jim Coulsen of Sight 'n Sound Productions, providing totally danceable rock and country music from the 50s through the 90s.

Beer, sodas and wine will be available. A five dollar donation will be collected at the door and all proceeds will benefit the ongoing efforts of the Community Center. The fun starts at 8 PM. Come on out and join your friends and neighbors at this old-fashioned Community Dance. Why drive all the way to town? Party right here in your own backyard. Call the CVCYC at 659-3983 for complete details.

Summer is really here, and the Community Pool is now on full time schedule. Swim lessons for the kids begin daily at 9 AM and continue until noon. There are still a few swim lesson openings available in sessions 2 and 3. Call the pool at 659-2606 for complete information on lessons, or any of the many other aquatic programs being offered.

Family and Recreational Swim begins each day, seven days a week, at noon and continues until 5 PM. On Fridays, the pool is open from 5 until 7 PM for family swim time. Monday thru Thursday evenings, the pool is available for adult lap swim from 5 until 6 PM for all you desk bound over achievers out there looking for that excellent workout on the way home from another day on the job.

Parents seeking sources for tax deductible donations can give as much money as they want to their children with instructions to spend it all at the Community Pool Snack Bar. This year's menu includes an ever expanding variety of real' yummy things that you can (still) eat in the designated snack area. Yes,

Coach Rick Simms sez "keep those #@%&?@#! gummy bears out of my pool pump."

Anyone out there got an extra moosehead for sale? Start checking those attics boys and girls, ladies and gentlemen: dig deep into those closets and wander to the far back reaches of your garage. Your trash could be another person's treasure. Hey, the 3rd annual really big and really neat CVCYC Giant Flea Market and Craft Sale is coming next month, to a Carmel Middle School parking lot near you. Time to gather all those really useful items from your past and sell them to the folks down the street.

For a small fee, you get a really cool 12 x 12 space from which to sell all your unused stuff. The Community Center takes care of all the advertising, and you take advantage of all those cars passing by on the valley road. What could be easier? Call the CVCYC office today and say "I want to make lots of money selling my cool stuff", and your application will be mailed to you the very next day. All local artists, craft persons and antique dealers are welcome.

And like, plus, the Flea Market will feature face painting, food for the whole family, and maybe even that really cool big inflated dancin' dinosaur thing. As a special treat, Mr. Golf Ball will return for the third year, offering the best deals in town on gently used Maxflies (among others).

The Fiesta is coming to Carmel Valley. You know it's really summertime when those Kiwanis Fiesta posters start popping up around the Village. This year's highlights include the opening Hoopla, BBQ at Trail & Saddle Club, the Saturday morning Parade through the Village and the always excellent Street Dance Saturday night in Del Fino Plaza. Once again the Community Center will be offering food at the dance, including hamburgers and cheeseburgers made to order, hotdogs, fries and other treats.

While at the Park either Saturday or Sunday, stop by the CVCYC soda booth and support your Community Center while keeping the kids quenched. Every dollar raised goes right back to supporting the families of Carmel Valley in the form of expanded programs, classes and events.

Police will get free rides on MST

Monterey-Salinas Transit (MST) is allowing on-duty law enforcement officers with bicycles to ride free. The MST Board of Directors approved this new policy at its recent Board meeting of May 8, 1995.

New bike racks were installed on all 61 MST buses earlier this year.

This new service offers bicycle patrols improved mobility, particularly in hilly terrain; shelter from and ease of travel during inclement weather; and opportunities for increased citizen contact.

"To the best of our knowledge, this is the first time such a program is offered anywhere in the United States. This is a creative, no-cost opportunity for partnership that brings benefits to MST and to local law enforcement, as well as goodwill to the community," commented Frank J. Lichtanski, MST General Manager.

VALLEY VOICE

Fran Farina

Jim Cofer was General Manager of the Monterey Peninsula Water Management District for the past five years. He was selected for the position because he had been successful in building a dam, had experience with wastewater reclamation and desalination, and had worked on fishery problems.

Equally important to his selection was his straightforward, non-political approach to solving problems.

In his short time with the Water District, Jim's focus was on the thorough and timely development of a dependable water supply for the Peninsula. He was instrumental in the implementation of a financing plan for construction and operation of the CAWD/PBCSD Wastewater Reclamation Project which now irrigates the Pebble Beach golf courses. Under his direction, the Paralta well in Seaside was developed. He directed development of plans for construction of a 3 MGD seawater desalination plant in Sand City. He accelerated the planning and development of the New Los Padres Water Supply Project.

One of his last official acts was to sign the Clean Water Act Section 404 permit for the new dam. This was issued by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and is the key federal permit required for the project.

Jim was one of the most accessible executives I have ever met. His door was always open (unless he was in conference). He always answered the phone and never screened his calls. You'd find him in the office before 8:00. He worked many Friday nights and weekends. With over thirty years of experience in the water supply planning industry, he knew most of the major players in California water.

You knew not to call for Jim on Thursday before 9:00 because that was his Kiwanis day. He enjoyed participating in their youth oriented projects such as the Special Olympics and the Soapbox Derby. He was recognized as Kiwanian of the Year in 1994 for his service to the community.

His office seems empty now. The staff has placed a floral arrangement there in an effort to brighten the space and fill the void. Calls of condolence are more than expressions of sorrow. They are heartfelt statements in support of a person they knew to be honorable and hard working. A memorial service has been scheduled for 10:30 AM on Friday, June 23 at Mission Ranch.

Jim Cofer was 60 years old when he died. He held one of the most stressful jobs on the Peninsula. He died knowing that he had helped us secure the key permits for a new dam on the Carmel River.

Virtually all of Jim's career was in government. Some may scoff and derisively refer to him as a bureaucrat. Those who knew him would acknowledge him with the respect he deserved.

LETTERS to the Editor

Editor, CV Sun;

CVCYC VOLUNTEERS HELP OUT

If you had the opportunity to view or participate in the Big Sur International Marathon or endure the rains at the AMA Superbike races April 29 and 30, then you may have run across (no pun intended) some of the 29 Carmel Valley Community Youth Center volunteers who provided over 190 man hours of community service to the marathon and SCRAMP-sponsored AMA races at Laguna Seca.

The cool air and the fog that shrouded the Highway 1 marathon course did not dampen the enthusiasm of CVCYC volunteers who manned water station 6 located at the most beautiful part of the marathon route, Bixby Bridge.

Led by the fearless Luis Zabala, the finely honed team from CVCYC executed flawless water transfers to the oncoming hordes of runners and walkers. Despite the best efforts of the marathoners, all attempts to overrun the well-entrenched team at Station 6 failed. The aggressive tactics of "take this water or die" echoed the resolve of the CVCYC team to take no prisoners.

The rain at Laguna Seca may have delayed the final races until Monday at the AMA Superbike races, but the CVCYC's parking crew had a great time Saturday and Sunday watching the wild and wet action on the track while carrying out parking and deparking duties that had crowds cheering.

CVCYC became partners with the Sports

Car Race Assn of Monterey Peninsula in 1994 and participates in parking and deparking duties for all SCRAMP sponsored races. Last year CVCYC shared in part of the proceeds that SCRAMP gave back to area non-profits performing duties at the raceway.

With three more races remaining in the 1995 season, there is plenty of opportunity for volunteers to sign on for one of the six race days. We can promise you hours of boring spectator parking, interspersed with moments of sheer terror when the crowds begin to leave. Sun burn is common and the amount of dust you'll eat could choke a Kirby with "on-board" attachments, but it's the little things in life that make it exciting and parking at Laguna Seca is...well...parking!

Thanks to all of CVCYC volunteers: Luis, Joni and Megan Zabala, Rick, Bonnie and Kellie Simms, Kay Kirkland, Curt and Deb Burks, Donna Bucholz, Bill and Tracy Keenan, Nancy Quelland, Sally Rissel, Sandy Samora, Linda Shinazy, Nick Craft, Di Whiteside, Yvonne Despard, Russ Zabala, Tony Mathias, Bob Erskine, Mike Cooper, Reggie King, John Edwards, Stacy Wheeler, Dave Pellett and Dave Lyon. You did good.

For you guys and gals looking for just a couple more hours of community service hours to graduate (like maybe all of 'em), your ship has come in.

Contact the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center at 659-3983 if this sounds like the fun you've been missing. Upcoming race days at Laguna Seca are July 22 & 23, August 19 & 20 and September 9 & 10. And with the growing success of the Big Sur International Marathon, we'll need help in 1996 too!

McPherson rejects pay raise

Assemblyman Bruce McPherson, 27th District, announced that he will not be accepting the 5% pay increase ordered for legislators yesterday by the California Citizens Compensation Commission. McPherson also turned back the 37% pay raise granted to legislators last May, requesting that these funds be directed to educational and public safety purposes.

"It is my intention to tell the Controller of California that I am rejecting the pay increase," said Assemblyman McPherson. "I will be, on occasion, asking the Controller to direct these funds to worthwhile causes." Recently, Assemblyman McPherson instructed the Controller to give $2,500 from the previous pay increase to the Greater Santa Cruz County Community Foundation for disaster relief associated with the recent storms.

"With the State of California still facing multi-billion dollar deficits, it's not appropriate for its representatives to be receiving a pay increase," McPherson stated. "I don't think that increasing compensation for legislators, while at the same time decreasing services to citizens, is fair to California's taxpayers," McPherson concluded.

The raise is to take effect December 1 and would raise legislator's base pay to $75,600. Assemblyman McPherson is currently receiving the previous pay rate of $52,500.

Bureaucrat bashing seems to be replacing baseball as the national pastime. After all, they're such easy targets with their salaries published and the controversial issues they must resolve. Sometimes we forget that they are people just like us.

Floods and Stress part three

By Dr. Ann Flood

Two weeks ago, I discussed the many ways in which stress can manifest itself. Last week I discussed the intensity and duration of the various reactions to stress. In this final part, I discuss the most important issue once stress reactions are recognized. What can you do about it?

Here are some ideas that can be used to help your friends and loved ones who may still be going through some of the common reactions to stress.

1. Restore stability and routine. For example, do things to make the environment as normal and livable as possible (even if these are temporary measures). You can hang pictures, fix or remove broken objects, or do anything else that will evoke memories of the time prior to the stress-producing events.
2. Get back on a regular schedule for meals, school activities, social activities, and other appointments.
3. Establish family time and quiet time. There is an extra need for family cohesiveness. Avoid unusual outside interruptions that could add more stress. Avoid violent TV shows and harsh music.
4. Set aside time to talk about feelings, anxieties, and experiences. Parents and caretakers should seek out family, friends, and support groups to alleviate their own fears, sadness, and anxieties and thereby increase their coping skills. Parents and caretakers need to be calm and reassuring. They also need to get more self-nurturing because more of their own nurturing will be in demand.
5. Share information about what plans are being made to restore normality, i.e., the plumbers are coming tomorrow to fix the bathroom, etc.
6. Eat nutritious food, drink lots of water and get plenty of sleep. Avoid alcohol, caffeine, stimulants and non-prescription medications and drugs. See a physician for any unusual physical symptoms. Get lots of exercise.

Renew your spiritual faith. Honor your inner strength and acknowledge your weaknesses. Seek help when you need it. Be gentle with yourself and others.

And last but not least,

7. Find that sense of humor and share it.

Carla Kramer's handmade rag dolls delight children of all ages and will be exhibited by her sister, potter Niki Tugwell.

For over 30 years, Jeanne Ocher's stunning watercolors have been exhibited in a number of Carmel galleries. She also is a member of the Monterey Peninsula Watercolor Society.

Photographic artist Peter McArthur's work interprets the intuitive visual inspiration he receives from forms and objects, both natural and manufactured. His work has been exhibited locally and nationally and is now showing at the Carmel Connection in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

Karin and Jim Watkins offer "Barklay's Biskies" for your favorite canine as well as pet accessories, treats and gift packages in hand painted bowls. Their work is a "must see" for dog and cat lovers.

A very few spaces remain available for local artists who are interested in showing their work at the Strawberry Festival Art Show. For details, call the Chapel, 659-2278 or Grace Darcy, 659-3933.

Concours seeks Giugiaro designed cars

Concours Italiana organizers are looking for show-quality examples of eight vehicles designed by Sig. Giorgetto Giugiaro of Italdesign to feature in a special display at this year's event.

Giugiaro, often called a "modern day Michelangelo," is one of the world's top automotive and industrial designers. He'll visit the Peninsula for the first time as the featured designer of the ninth annual Concours Italiana, Friday, August 18th at Quail Lodge Resort. Giugiaro and his Torino, Italy design studio, Italdesign, are responsible for the designs of a near endless list of automotive designs, spanning the super-exotic to the everyday driver.

Italdesign is also bringing several exciting automotive prototypes to the event which have never before been seen in the United States.

Concours Italiana will feature a display of more than thirty-five of the most significant Giugiaro designs. They are looking on the Peninsula for examples of the following cars for this display:

74 VW Scirocco
74 VW Golf
75 DeLorean
78 Audi 80
81 Isuzu Impulse
84 SAAB 9000 Turbo 16V
87 Chrysler Eagle Premiere
91 Subaru SVX

The lucky owners who are chosen will have an opportunity to meet the designer, Mr. Giugiaro, and receive complimentary passes. Please call the Concours Italiana office at 206-688-1903 or fax 206-646-5458.

This annual event has raised more than $40,000 over the past two years for the Carmel Unified School District through FOCUS. This year, our goal is to raise more than $20,000.

REAL ESTATE Rand Smith

ARE REALTORS REAL PEOPLE TOO?

I have been a licensed Real Estate Agent for almost 15 years full time and, as many of you may know, I have been professionally speaking now for over a year. During that time I have conducted over 23 workshops to well over 6,000 real estate agents across the country. Boy have I learned a lot! What's interesting is that I'm supposed to be teaching them and what's really happening is they're teaching me. You know what about? They're teaching me about themselves, themselves as real estate people. Yes, I said real estate people, not agents.

Remember Barbara Streisand's song "People" or was it "People Who Need People"? Well, maybe there's something to that song after all. What I'm learning is that the majority of these people (agents) are the most caring, understanding, people-oriented people I have ever met in my life. And you know who they seem to care about the most? Wrong. You. People. The very people they serve. They come to my seminars in droves to learn a better way to market, a better way to provide great service. A slightly different way to promote your property and themselves. Not for their egos, but so that they can help more people.

Here's the most interesting point. They have an insatiable need, want and desire to help. To help whom? To help people. To help you. To help you do what? Improve your lives. Find a better home. Get a great deal. Sell for the highest. Buy for the lowest. Negotiate to your advantage. Satisfy your needs. Not just the need you have to buy or sell a house. But to meet your emotional needs. Wow! Think about that.

I know that many times you get upset with your agent and say "they're not doing anything to sell my home", or "they never returned my call" or "they did a lousy job". What I have learned is that the vast majority of these people are giving you all they've got and when they give you all they've got (and in a difficult market, it "just ain't enough") then, well, they just don't know how to face you.

You see these are people who need people. They crave your approval. They need your approval. There is nothing they would rather do than meet your needs, all of them, and have you happily moved and showering them with praise. Isn't that what we all crave as human beings? I do. In fact, I'm one of these people too.

So, the next time you're ready to pick up the phone and chew out your real estate agent or blame them for not returning your call or yell at them because no one has even looked at your home, remember this:

Maybe, just maybe, they're giving you all they've got and, due to circumstances beyond their control, it just isn't enough. Give them a chance to tell you the truth. Remember, they're doing everything they know to do and they're out there by the thousands trying to find the answers. The answers for you.

Forest Theater features movies shot in the local area

Carmel's Forest Theater will host a film series this summer featuring eight movies filmed in Monterey County. You can see your favorite stars under the stars in a unique outdoor amphitheater setting.

There have been 181 movies filmed entirely, or in part, in the area and this film series features eight of the best. Because of arrangements with the distributors the titles may not be publicized, but you can find out the names and show dates by calling 626-1681.

If you are familiar with movies you can probably guess the titles by listing the following stars: Clint Eastwood and Jessica Walter; Troy Donahue and Sandra Dee; Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor; Hayley Mills and Maureen O'Hara; Eddie Albert and Ray Milland; Tom Hanks; Marlon Brando and Karl Malden; and Nick Nolte and Debra Winger.

The Forest Theater is a truly beautiful and unique setting for these out-door films. Located in downtown Carmel near the intersection of Junipero and Ocean, the theater features two immense bonfires to enhance your enjoyment of the movies. Dress warmly, bring a blanket and enjoy movies under the stars in the Carmel forest.

Tickets available at the door are $5 for adults and $2 for children under 12. The door opens at 8 p.m. with all movies beginning at 8:30 p.m. A food concession stand is available. The movie dates are June 20, 21, 27, 28; July 3, 11, 12, 18, 19, 25, 26, and August 1, 2, and 7.

With no movie theaters operating in downtown Carmel this film series provides an opportunity for locals, as well as tourists, to see feature length films in their backyard.

Proceeds from the film series will go toward the non-profit Theater's stage productions. The film series is funded in part by a grant from DPIC Companies, Inc. of Monterey.

The Forest Theater Guild is now in its 85th year and is Carmel's First Community Theater. This summer they will produce Stephen Sondheim's "Into the Woods" and John Steinbeck's "Cannery Row."

VALLEY FINANCE

Douglas Pease

Sometimes all the financial advice in the world is not enough. One client in particular comes to mind; he was very intent upon setting money aside, following a good financial plan, and advancing in his career. His earnestness impressed me, and I tried to be especially helpful.

We discussed a general scheme to save regularly to give himself money for more choices later on, to buy enough insurance to buffer major disasters, and then to contribute what he could to a retirement plan account...for old age. We sketched a monthly budget he could live with, and determined how much his income would have to grow before he could begin investing.

We also discussed the challenges ahead: marriage, children, a new car, eventually his own home, future college expenses, and probably a few costly career transitions.

Viewing this momentous prospect at the very beginning of his journey, I mentioned that some of these things had to be done, others would happen as circumstances permitted, and there would be some choices which involved taking a risk. Of course it was important to do what had to be done, I remember remarking, but it would be just as important to be ready to take a few chances if they could help him up the mountain.

So I was pleased when my client phoned this week to announce he had taken my advice and had paid off.

"How was that?" I asked.

"I remember what you said about taking chances," he replied, "so on our camping trip to Nevada we stopped for breakfast at a small cafe, I put my risk dollar into the slot machine and hit a $4,100 jackpot. This financial planning stuff really works!"

Oil drilling ban may be lifted

The nationwide moratorium on offshore oil drilling in environmentally sensitive areas of the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) is likely to be lifted. The offshore drilling ban, which has been part of the U.S. House of Representative's Department of Interior Appropriations Bill for the past fourteen years, is not likely to be renewed this year.

The strategy of the new majority in congress, if successful, will result in all congressional protections for America's coastline being allowed to expire on October 1, 1995.

While a termination of the OCS Moratorium will not directly effect the current State prohibition on drilling within three miles of the coast, or restrictions on drilling within the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary, all unprotected offshore areas along the California coast will become open for lease-sales to oil companies. Areas that oil companies will likely initially target include those offshore of San Luis Obispo, Sonoma, Mendocino, Humbolt, San Diego and Orange Counties. Keep in mind that oil spills that occur in areas adjacent to the Monterey Bay Sanctuary can still impact Sanctuary waters as oil drifts from the initial spill site. There is no current technology that can adequately prevent, clean u or contain oil spills for the types of ocean and wind conditions which are present throughout the year in the offshore waters within and adjacent to the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary.

Throughout the Association of Monterey Bay Area Governments' (AMBAG's) twenty-seven year history, AMBAG's member agencies have been united in their strong opposition to oil drilling related activities along the central and northern California coastline. The member agencies of AMBAG recognize the importance of protecting our state's coastline which is the backbone of its multi-billion dollar tourism industry, as well as a robust commercial fishing industry.

The proposed lifting of the drilling ban will be considered by the House Subcommittee on Interior Appropriations, possibly as early as the first week of June, 1995. Timely action is, therefore, required by those concerned. The AMBAG Board of Directors passed a Resolution, opposing the proposed lifting of the ban at their May 10, 1995 meeting. A letter was also sent to the Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Interior Appropriations (Ralph Regula, R-Ohio) and others regarding AMBAG's opposition to this proposed action.

Summer Jazz Camp performances have started

One hundred of Monterey County's best young musicians - there's a jazz camp.

The Monterey Jazz Festival's Summer Jazz Camp will run from June 19th through June 30th. On June 26th, 20 members of the Monterey County Honor Band will leave the camp for a two week tour of Australia, playing a variety of venues and staying in the homes of their Australian hosts.

On June 22nd, the camp attendees will be performing in a free jazz concert starting at 7 p.m. in the Monterey Conference Center.

All of the kids in the camp attend Monterey County Schools. Their ages range from 12 to 18 years old. Also attending the camp will be graduates of the Monterey Jazz Festival's High School All Star Jazz Band, who will be acting as assistants to the core of professional musicians who will be teaching at the camp.

The Summer Jazz Camp, now in it's second year of sponsorship by the Monterey Jazz Festival, will run from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

every day, Monday through Friday. At 4 p.m., Honor Band members begin their own schedule of rehearsals.

A typical day will include a general camp meeting, warm-ups, sessions on fundamentals, concepts and sight reading; jazz lectures, videos, and private lessons; master classes, sectionals and improvisations; and the chance to play with the professional musicians who will be acting as their teachers.

Those musicians include Bill Berry, David Bendigkeit, Tee Carson, Paul Contos, Herman Riley, Dave Gregoric, Vince Lateano, Scott Steel and Bruce Forman.

The camp will also include a special clinic by Roberta Mauleon and a guest lecture by Paul Vieregge, Stage Manager Emeritus of the Monterey Jazz Festival, who will be speaking on jazz history.

A graduate of Oberlin Conservatory and the Salzburg Mozarteum, Christina Price has soloed with the Cleveland Orchestra and has concertized widely on the East Coast. She has performed with John Mack since 1983, when the Plymouth Trio was formed. Recently described as "unsurpassed in musicianship," the Trio has developed a varied repertoire from the baroque to the twentieth century. Recently awarded a grant to commission a new work by Jeffrey Rathbun, the Trio also commissioned Miracles Are Not Caused by Klaus Roy, which will be performed at Monday night's recital. Both Ms. Price and Mr. Mack record for Crystal Records.

eleventh year as accompanist for the John Mack Master Class. A specialist in vocal and instrumental music, Mr. Shapiro has appeared with such distinguished soloists as Elaine Douvas, Timothy Day and Alain Marion. He has performed with the San Francisco Symphony Chorus. He has recorded for Cantilena, New Albion and Windham Hill.

The concert begins at 8:00 p.m. and will be presented at the Hidden Valley Theater, located on the Carmel Valley Road, 11.2 miles east of Highway 1. Proceeds from this concert benefit the youth programs of Hidden Valley. Tickets are $10 for adults and $8 for students under 18, and are available at the door or by reservation. For further information or reservations, please phone 659-3115.
